NovoConnect Wireless Collaboration

Vivitek NovoConnect is a wireless collaboration product family that allows users to eliminate cables and connect any device to the main screen in meeting rooms. NovoConnect facilitates team collaboration with functions such as content moderation, screen sharing, annotation and file sharing, wireless multi-point touch support to take meetings beyond presentations and into true collaboration.

Connect any device with the free software provided

For a full BYOD experience, users can directly connect using their laptop and the free Desktop Streamer software or using the NovoPresenter app on any mobile device with GoogleCast and Airplay support.

For added convenience, Vivitek offers a choice of three Launchers to create a direct laptop connection without a full software installation.

Direct connection with Launcher

Invite guests or team members to instantly connect to the NovoConnect unit from their laptops using Launchers, without installing any software. A mix of all three models can be used to accommodate different guest and internal user needs in the meeting room. No matter the setting, Launchers work with all NovoConnect solutions.
